The Official Court Reporter is the court reporter appointed by the judge to serve in his court. The rotating and outside court reporters who substitute when the official court reporter is unavailable, are the Deputy Court Reporters.

A Regular Deputy Voting Registrar is a person or entity authorized by the Election Administrator to accept voter registrations. The title is not dependent on pay. A volunteer is also referred to as a "Regular Deputy".

Election Clerks are not day to day clerks who work in the elections department. They are persons appointed to serve at election places when there is an ongoing election. They are entitled to compensation. They are appointed by the Election Judges.

Election Judges are appointed by Commissioner's Court to serve either one or two years for each regular county election precinct and they serve at each regular election during their term. They are entitled to compensation.
